PROSPECTUS FOR THE CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX.

These works have been published by us for five years. There are now more subscribers for them, probably, than for any other paper published in the United States; certainly more than there are for any other paper published in this District. This large and increasing subscription is conclusive evidence of their usefulness. They are invaluable to all who feel an interest in the proceedings of Congress. No other publication gives them so full, nor half so cheap. It is, indeed, the cheapest publication in the United States—perhaps in the world. Our position at the seat of Government enables us to print them at so low a rate. We are compelled to publish the proceedings of Congress in detail, for our daily paper. This done, it requires, comparatively, but a small additional expense to change them to the forms of the Congressional Globe and Appendix. If it were not for these circumstances, we could not publish them for four times the sum charged.

The Congressional Globe is made up of the daily proceedings of the two houses of Congress, and the speeches of the members, condensed. The yeas and nays on all important subjects are given. It is published weekly, with small type, on sixteen royal quarto pages.

The Appendix contains the speeches of the members, at full length, written out by themselves, and is printed in the same form as the Congressional Globe. It is published as fast as the speeches can be prepared. Usually there are more numbers printed for a session than there are weeks in it.

Each of these works is complete in itself. But it is desirable for every subscriber to have both; because, if there should be any ambiguity in the synopsis of a speech in the Congressional Globe, or any denial of its correctness, it may be removed, at once, by referring to the speech in the Appendix.

Indexes to both are sent to subscribers, as soon as they can be prepared.

The late session of Congress being a very important one, we printed about five thousand extra copies of the Congressional Globe and Appendix, calculating upon being able to dispose of them to persons who are not regular subscribers. The former makes 150, and the latter upwards of 200, royal quarto pages. As the main subject proposed at that session—the separation of Bank and State—has been postponed until the next session, they will be useful, we may say necessary, for those who subscribe for the next session; and we shall therefore reserve them for those subscribers who desire them, and shall first subscribe for them. Though not so voluminous as the proceedings of ordinary sessions, the important subjects discussed will render these volumes not less valuable than any which have been, or which may hereafter be, printed. Every subscriber for the next session, who intends to file the papers, should procure copies of the last.

TERMS.

For the Congressional Globe for the session which commenced on the 4th September, 1837 - -	$1 00
For the Appendix for the same session - -	1 00
For the Congressional Globe for the session which is to commence on the 4th day of December next	1 00
For the Appendix for the same session - -	1 00

Any person sending us the money for five copies of either of the above publications, will be entitled to a copy.

Payments may be transmitted by mail, postage paid, at our risk. The notes of any incorporated bank in the United States, current in the section of country where a subscriber resides, will be received. But when subscribers can procure the notes of banks in the Northern and Middle States, they will please send them.

To ensure all the numbers, the subscriptions should be here by the 11th of December next.

☞ No attention will be paid to any order, unless the money accompany it, or unless some responsible person, known to us to be so, shall agree to pay it before the session expires.
